

Case Study:- Standard Roadside Pedestrian Barrier

The standard pedestrian guardrail. Used in this instance to prevent pedestrians from straying off the pavement. Further safety protection could have been provided with the addition of the use of article 394 the mesh panel infills, or offering even greater protection with the use of the article 392 pedestrian infill panel which also offers the added benefit of visibility to approaching motorists due to the staggered vertical bars.

BAUART
GEPRÜFT
TYPE
APPROVED

